

Scenf Work Seminar

Holly Bushard has graciously agreed to present a half day seminar for us on Sunday, April 15, 2018, on introducing the unique elements of AKC Scenf Work (as compared to NACSW Nose Work), along with the challenges that this venue brings. During the second portion of the seminar, Holly will share some wonderful insight into making the most of your trial experiences – from the preparation a month before through the post-trial debriefing. This entire afternoon will be a great resource for anyone that is currently competing (or even contemplating it!) in any level of scenf work, regardless of organization! All are welcome to join us for a great afternoon of learning.

This is a non-working seminar, so unless your dog is entered in Sunday morning's trial, we ask that you leave him/her at home.

About Holly...

Holly Bushard has spent her entire adult life in the company of dogs, teaching pet dog classes and therapy dog classes for more than a decade. Holly served as a narcotics dog K-9 handler during her career as a police officer. Borrowing from her experience as a detection dog handler, Holly's nose work training focuses on building eager, confident dogs with strong commitment to odor. Her history of handling dogs in real-life searches has given her a unique perspective in handling techniques that clear search areas efficiently and reduce the risk of inducing false alerts. In addition to her training experience, Holly worked for three years as a shelter director, fostered dozens of dogs in her home and evaluated therapy dog teams for nearly a decade. This experience has helped her understand the needs of a wide variety of dogs and handlers. Currently, Holly competes in agility, obedience, rally and nose work with three great dogs. In addition to her seminar schedule, Holly competes in nose work at the Elite level, and is a judge for both the National Association of Canine Scenf Work and AKC Scenf Work.
